

WEEK 49: MENTORING DISCUSSION GUIDE

1. Who was the most influential person to you when you were a child? Give an example of something they did that stuck with you?
2. What were your perceptions of mentoring before this week's study? What about now?
3. How significant is it that the term mentor comes from the idea of taking someone on a journey?
4. Have any of you been in a formal mentoring relationship? Describe your experience. What did they do that was valuable for your development and success?
5. How do you find a mentor? What are your thoughts on the strategy Mark Moore suggested to begin a mentoring relationship?
6. What are the 4 major areas of your life that you want to be mentored in? Who could help you do that?
7. Identify an area of your life that you are relatively competent in. Are there people in your sphere of influence who need guidance in that area?
8. Which of the steps to being a mentor impacted or intrigued you the most?

ACTION STEP

What actionable item from this week's discussion is your next step in the mentoring process? Do it this week.